

Figure 4: Employers in Essex (Village and Town) paid the highest annual average wage in Vermont in 2000, at approximately $46,200. This wage is nearly 60.0% greater than the State average and more than $12,000 above the County average. Employers in several other nearby Chittenden County communities were also well above the average Vermont wage of $28,900. Essex Junction residents thus have access to many of Vermont's highest-paying employers.
