

Figure 5: The Vermont Department of Taxes collects information on reported income by town and by reporting unit (typically households). In 1999 the median adjusted household income in Essex (both Village and Town) was nearly $46,000. This local average was 71.0% higher than the $25,500 for the State as a whole. Other Chittenden County towns exceeding 160.0% of the State median included Williston and Shelburne.
